

I feel that it is very beneficial to have the traffic and weather channel. Just last night we had very bad storms go through our area and I turned it to the St. Louis weather channel and listened to our local counties being named as having a tornado watch. This channel has the ability to warn people of weather conditions that could be life threatening and therefore I believe that if I am willing to pay for this service that it should be up to the customers on whether or not we should keep these channels.

Thank you, Terry A. Nagel
